What's new:

What our Clients Say "I took my first puppy from Barksdale's as a rescue to find homes and decided I had chosen the best breeder! I could never find a breeder that was so meticulous in caring for and training my new puppy. We even provided all the toys and training aids to ensure he was ready when he came home. I have gone to many other breeders that were less than impressive and I take back what I thought my life revolved around. What a great team they are, in fact they are much better than I am (my husband works for them) so they are well experienced in the field of breeding and raising dogs. So now that they have had dogs all of their lives and were never that interested in having one I am so amazed how much passion they have for dogs after raising them from infancy and every stage of their life. My Husband and I have both had dogs and this is the only breeder we would recommend." J. Allen - Abilene, TX "To Barksdale's, Tenley Blue is what I have dreamed of being. Her personality has brought me such joy that I rejoice every morning when I open the window to let out her morning bark, hoping that it will last for hours. Her temperament is exceptional, and she is very sweet. It is a joy to not only watch her day to day, but to play and hike with her." J. Boyd - Columbia, MO "I found the first place I felt comfortable, but Barksdale's was an even better fit, I took my pups to both places, and when talking to Em, I could feel his love radiating off the phone." T. Sargent - Columbia, MO "We are in the process of transitioning from acquiring puppies and placing them, to teaching our own puppies. It takes years to master the art of puppy rearing, a skill which is much like fly fishing. To become an advanced fly fisher one must put in long hours. There is no substitute, or shortcut, it involves a great deal of patience and application of your life. There are skilled people who can help you, and many of these people work with puppy raisers. In my opinion, each puppy raiser is a great teacher in their own way, but the process requires more than a short course. It is a life's ambition, not an ephemeral objective. In this sense, many of these skilled fly fishers are of the same
