For example, a layer of hot-melt asphalt may be applied on one or both sides of a polypropylene or fiberglass mat in a continuous on-line process, and the resulting roofing membrane assembly may be fastened to the building at its edges using staples or other conventional fasteners. The roofing membrane assembly may be compacted at the building site, and one or more layers of roofing membrane may be applied in successive, contiguous layers to the membrane assembly. In some arrangements, the roofing membrane and any layers of underlying roofing membrane may be compacted and attached to a purlin on a building, e.g., a purlin disposed to support, protect, and cover a roof. The roofing membrane assembly may further include various attachments that facilitate installation on the building.Q: Jekyll Jekyll-Sitemap: Error parsing YAML front matter on_page After installing the jekyll-sitemap plugin, I'm getting this error on jekyll serve or jekyll build: Error parsing YAML front matter: error parsing YAML front matter: yaml: line 1
