
Cellule 10 Tazmamart Ahmed Marzouki Pdf 18

during this ordeal, marzouki developed a great sensitivity to the sufferings of the prisoners and their families. this explains his extraordinary interest in the topic, the bitter experience of incarceration that he had, and his urgent desire to expose the crimes of his government. i am writing to inform you of my position as a political prisoner in the detention center of tazmamart. the deplorable conditions of my detention, which i have already described to you in detail, are extremely similar to those of the prisoners in most european prisons. the french, the dutch, the belgians, and the germans treat their political prisoners more harshly than we do. in addition, political prisoners in the prisons of algeria and lebanon are treated more humanely than we are. i am shocked by the revolting criminal behavior of the moroccan authorities toward their prisoners. the shocking treatment of the islamists, especially the islamists from the rabat group (who are the most wretched), is the most disturbing aspect of this degrading situation. the prison, located in the village of tazmamart in the oriental region of morocco, was one of the countrys maximum-security prisons. the prison was infamous for its torture and for keeping prisoners in seclusion for long periods of time in tiny cells. it was also notorious for the sometimes violent clashes between its guards and its prisoners. in an interview published on his blog, mohamed raiss, who was serving a six-year prison sentence in tazmamart for participating in the february 20, 1999, uprising, said that he and his fellow prisoners were repeatedly tortured and threatened with execution.

the last years of my existence, i lived like a stone in prison, far from the human community, and the horizon disappeared for me, as i saw only two walls of the prison. i lived like an animal, and was very lonely. when i arrived in prison, i did not know anything, and i was like a simple person. in prison, i saw so many people die. a lot of people died in this place. the other people who died, i do not know their names. many people died in my cell. their names i do not know. they do not want to know me. i think that i was a nuisance for them. the other people died in the prison with the punishment of their sentences. i was in tazmamart prison, and i did not know what was happening in the world. i did not know anything, and i did not know anything about the outside world. i was in the cell 10 of tazmamart. that's what i lived in prison, and i can not forget it. i did not hear anything about the outside world. they sent me to the prison, and i was forced to remain there for many years. during the first years of my imprisonment, i spent my time in the desert prisons of tazmamart. the prison at tazmamart was a concentration camp. i was considered the weakest. i remember one of my cellmates, a young officer named mohamed yomane, who was a brilliant fighter. i was on his good side, i thought he was a great guy. he was an officer in the algerian army, but during the independence war, he was a rebel. i thought he was a true rebel, fighting for his country. in the camps, he met many other officers and he was a leader in the moroccan military prison system. he was well liked. he was a good fellow, a friend, and he was a true warrior. i was worried for him. in the desert prison of tazmamart, he was in a bad state. he had been sentenced for five years, but he was in the desert for more than twenty years, and the conditions were unbearable. it was a death trap, and the same fate awaited us all. 5ec8ef588b
